

Start Fresh!

PHOTOGRAPHS BY CHRISTOPHER BROWN

Craft a Kids' Table

This Easter, upgrade the oft-neglected childrens' table with creative additions designed to keep young diners occupied while adults convene en masse for Easter supper or brunch. Pair odds and ends from the arts and crafts drawer with holiday eats for festive seating assignments the little ones can take pride in.

Flight of Fancy With a little instruction, kids can create birds and greenery to hang from the treetops of our makeshift centerpiece.

Branching Out We fashioned our pièce-de-résistance from a branch we spray-painted and anchored in a silver bucket with dry split peas.

In Living Color Arts and crafts supplies inspire creativity during long holiday affairs; plus, the kids get to show off their work at meal's end.

Paper Trail The centerpiece and crafting materials are arranged on a plain cutting board wrapped in patterned paper.

Pulling Strings Replace the traditional tablecloth with art paper held in place with lengths of twine. Tied tightly under the table, the intersecting lines make for faux place mats.

Want to see more?

Visit charlestonhomemag.com to see outtakes from the photo shoot, along with more kid-friendly projects.